FIBERCOP: CHANGE IN MANAGEMENT TEAM WITH THE DEPARTURE OF ELISABETTA ROMANO AS CHIEF TECHNOLOGY & OPERATIONS OFFICER

Rome, December 11th, 2024

FiberCop announces that Elisabetta Romano, Head of Networks and Operations since last July 1st, is leaving the company.

Romano has had a long and successful career in the telecommunications industry in Italy and abroad. She served as CEO of Sparkle and was previously Chief Network, Operations & Wholesale Officer of TIM, responsible for fostering technological innovation and the evolution of networks and information technology at the Group level. She began her career in Alcatel, later moving to Ericsson with global positions in Stockholm and Silicon Valley.

FiberCop thanks Romano for her significant contribution to ensuring the success of the project for Network Separation from TIM and for having preserved the continuity of network operations in all areas of the business, including the NRRP project. FiberCop wishes the best of luck to Ms Romano for her future professional engagements.

Elisabetta Romano will be replaced by Stefano Paggi.
